1961 Selection of

DAYLILIES

DAYLILY CULTURE

These exciting new Daylilies should be planted with crown of plant one inch beneath the soil surface. The crown is where the roots join the foliage. Plant in sunny location, for Daylilies like at least four hours of sunshine each day. The soil should be well drained and supplied with plenty of organic matter. Add a good sized handful of bonemeal or a light sprinkling of your favorite fertilizer, well mixed with the top six inches of soil. Never add sand to a clay soil or you will have a cement soil. Use well rotted manure, leafmold or peat moss. Do not try to give your plants a shot in the arm by giving an over abundance of chemical fertilizer. It is best to fertilize very lightly and more often, such as spring, summer and fall, when the soil is damp. Organics in the soil is just as important as chemical fertilizers and water. To keep my Daylilies clean and in healthy growth, I use peat moss, 5—10—10 and agrinite fertilizer. Lime-stone is added every few years and the soil is kept at about pH of 6.0.
